About Us

The National Women's Coalition Against Violence & Exploitation (NWCAVE) is a volunteer operated national 501(c)(3) non-profit organization located in the pacific northwest of the United States of America. We continue working to inform, educate and prevent violence and exploitation against women and children nationally and internationally.

Whether human trafficking, domestic violence, sexual assault, sexual violence, stalking, bullying, hate crimes and all other forms of violence and exploitation against women and children, NWCAVE strives to keep the public informed and educated on how we can live in a more civilized society free of violence.

In order to achieve our mission and objectives we collaborate with other organizations, businesses, the public and media to continue to inform, educate and help prevent violence and exploitation in our local communities and throughout the world.

A few of our National Partners include The Joyful Heart Foundation's No More Campaign, V-Day's One Billion Rising and the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children's Take 25 Campaign. Together, with their support, NWCAVE welcomes you to our No More Summit and we thank you for saying NO MORE too!

"SHE WAS ASKING FOR IT"

Domestic violence and sexual assault are never the victim's fault.
It's time we all speak out to end this violence.

No more excuses.
No more silence.
No more violence.

About the Campaigns

What is NO MORE? NO MORE is a unifying public awareness and engagement campaign focused on ending domestic violence and sexual assault. Using its signature blue symbol to increase visibility and foster greater dialogue, NO MORE seeks to break social stigma, normalize the conversation around domestic violence and sexual assault, and increase resources to address these urgent issues. NO MORE is aligned with hundreds of organizations working at the local, state and national levels on prevention, advocacy, and services for survivors. www.NoMore.org

ONE BILLION RISING is a global call to women survivors of violence and those who love them to gather safely in community outside places where they are entitled to justice – courthouses, police stations, government offices, school administration buildings, work places, sites of environmental injustice, military courts, embassies, places of worship, homes, or simply public gathering places where women deserve to feel safe but too often do not. It is a call to survivors to break the silence and release their stories – politically, spiritually, outrageously – through art, dance, marches, ritual, song, spoken word, testimonies and whatever way feels right. www.onebillionrising.org

Take 25 is a campaign created by the National Center for Missing & Exploited Children (NCMEC) that asks families, educators, law-enforcement officers and trusted adults to take 25 minutes to talk to children about safety. Created in honor of National Missing Children's Day which is annually recognized on May 25th, Take 25 helps educate communities on safety risks and ways to better protect the children in their lives. During the months of April and May, communities are invited to join NCMEC in this grassroots effort by promoting ongoing safety conversations between children and their families.

Emcee and Co-Chair Biography

Lisa Guerrero, an award-winning journalist, was named Chief Investigative Correspondent in August 2010. Guerrero joined Inside Edition as a West Coast correspondent in June 2006.

Most recently, in 2014, Guerrero received a Clarion Award for her report on “Justice for Baby Alissa” in the “Best National News Category,” as well as a second-place National Headliner Award in the “Best National Investigative Report” category for her report on “Crime Scene Clean-Up.” In 2012, Guerrero was honored with a National Headliner Award when Inside Edition placed first in the category of “Broadcast Television, Networks, Cable Networks and Syndicators for Business and Consumer Reporting” for her investigation on “Power Bracelets.” Guerrero was also among the 2012 National Press Club Journalism Contest honorees, receiving an honorable mention for her investigative work in two separate categories. In the “Ann Cottrell Free Animal Reporting” category, Guerrero received an honorable mention for Inside Edition’s series of reports on animal abuse, including investigations on animal hoarding and the exotic animal trade. Likewise, Guerrero received an honorable mention in the “Consumer Journalism Broadcast” category for Inside Edition’s investigation on power bracelets. In 2011, she received a National Headliner Award when Inside Edition placed first place for her investigation on “Air Duct Scams.” As in past seasons, Guerrero was in high demand by numerous media outlets to provide her perspective on news and current events. In June 2013, she was a guest co-host on The View.

Before joining Inside Edition, Guerrero was best known as a sportscaster for 14 years including a 2003 stint as the sideline reporter for “Monday Night Football” and as co-host of “The Best Damn Sports Show Period” on Fox Sports Network. Guerrero has covered some of the biggest events on television from the Academy Awards and the Golden Globes, to the Super Bowl, World Series and NBA Finals. She also covered the World and National Figure Skating Championships and hosted the Tournament of Roses Parade for ABC. She also had a cameo playing a tough sports reporter in the Oscar nominated film, Moneyball, starring Brad Pitt.

Previously, Guerrero co-hosted VH1’s quiz show, “The 2006 World Series of Pop Culture,” produced in association with Entertainment Weekly magazine, and served as host of the weekend edition of “Extra.” She also traveled to Egypt with anchor Hugh Downs as the reporter for the Fox special “Live From Egypt: Opening the Tombs of the Golden Mummies.” In 2002, Guerrero was the first reporter to question Barry Bonds on camera about his alleged steroid use, which he denied. Other broadcast highlights that garnered critical acclaim include her news-making interviews with such high-profile athletes as Shaquille O’Neal, Randy Johnson, Jerry Rice, Terrell Owens, Kobe Bryant, Mia Hamm and Alex Rodriguez.

In 1997, Guerrero became the weekend sports reporter at KCBS-TV in Los Angeles and went on to work as a sports reporter at Fox’s KTTV in Los Angeles. At Fox Sports Net, Guerrero anchored the “Southern California Sports Report” and the “Rocky Mountain Sports Report.” She co-hosted “Sports Geniuses” and was a ringside reporter for “Toughman” before landing on “The Best Damn Sports Show Period” as the update anchor.

Guerrero began her career as a co-host on a sports show on Sports Channel New England (now Fox Sports New England). The Los Angeles Times called her “the hardest working person in sports,” and the Hispanic Business Journal named her one of the 100 most influential Hispanics in America. In October 2003, President Bush asked Guerrero to host the Hispanic Heritage Month banquet at The White House.

Guerrero is married to former World Series Champion pitcher, Scott Erickson, and they live in Los Angeles. Follow her on Twitter at www.twitter.com/4lisaguerrero. And, on Facebook at Facebook.com/lisaguerrero.

Co-Chair Biography

Michelle Bart was born and raised in Fort Lauderdale, Florida and lived in Los Angeles, CA over fifteen years until moving to the Pacific Northwest in 2008. Known to many in Southern California as the founder of the Foothill Arthritis Connection, Michelle is an award-winning media consultant and publicist with over 25 years experience in non-profit management, media communications, and human & civil rights advocacy. Michelle holds a communication's degree and has applied her education and expertise to helping businesses and organizations obtain visibility through the media, community relations, and the Internet. Michelle also helps families of missing children keep their child's face and case visible through national media outlets including "America's Most Wanted" with John Walsh on Lifetime, HLN's Nancy Grace Show, "Issues" with Jane Velez-Mitchell on HLN, Fox News, CNN's Larry King Live, and People Magazine to name a few.

Michelle currently serves on the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children Advisory Board for Take 25, is a Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA) for Clark County, WA and is co-founder of Northwest Coalition Against Trafficking (NWCAT) which on June 14, 2012 became an arm to the new non-profit the National Women's Coalition Against Violence & Exploitation which she serves as President and Co-Founder.

Michelle is producer of a full-length documentary "Your American Teen" (which won the Columbia Gorge International Film Festival 'Best Feature Documentary') is a member of Society of Professional Journalists, Arthritis Foundation, Human Rights Campaign and Alliance for Women In Media.

Michelle was diagnosed at seventeen with Juvenile Rheumatoid Arthritis and throughout the years has been diagnosed with Fibromyalgia, Osteoarthritis and Cervical pre-cancer which resulted in many surgeries; she turned lemons into lemonade by speaking out and advocating for the causes and people closest to her heart and ultimately helping herself in the process. Michelle has been a presenter and keynote speaker throughout the country on topics related to rheumatic diseases, human trafficking, child safety and LGBTQ issues. Michelle is a regular child advocate contributor for television, cable and radio including CNN, HLN and CBS networks.

In her spare time Michelle is host of "Voices for Justice" on Blog Talk Radio, enjoys spending time with her two beautiful nieces and is working on transitioning to becoming a vegan again. She is also the proud mother of two rescued Pomeranians.

THE GIFT OF LIFT™

The Gift of Lift

The National Women's Coalition Against Violence & Exploitation (NWCAGE) along with Dr. Allen Gabriel of Peace Health Medical Group Plastic Surgery and Robin Helm from Clark County Juvenile Court have all come together for The Gift of Lift Campaign; a collaborative effort to collect bras from October 1, 2014 – January 17, 2015 to benefit local and national programs for women and girls.

Our selected beneficiaries for this campaign: Presentation will be made at the Summit

About Free The Girls: is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization that provides job opportunities for survivors of sex trafficking. They collect gently used bras and donate them to the women as starting inventory for their own business selling the bras. Free the Girls is a coalition partner of the National Women's Coalition Against Violence & Exploitation. Learn more www.freethegirls.org.

About the YWCA WORTH Program: The WORTH Program relies on caring volunteers and community resources to provide support and encouragement to people incarcerated in the Clark County Corrections Center and the Clark County Work Center. The WORTH Program aims to break the cycle of incarceration by ensuring incarcerated women have the resources they need before leaving jail, and by teaching a new skill in a positive and respectful environment to men and women incarcerated at the work center. # Rita Corbin Burns Award Honoree

Etta Caver

Travel provided by

Thank you again for all of the nominations for our Rita Corbin Burns Award. In the first year of the award, the committee found themselves making a difficult decision and trying to select one person from 16 nominations; the nominations were powerful and very inspiring!

Although we can only honor one nominee, please know the National Women's Coalition Against Violence & Exploitation and Rita's family all know each of the nominees are without a doubt all worthy of praise and Rita would have loved meeting all of the nominees. All of the nominees are survivors of domestic violence, human trafficking and other forms of violence that are making a huge impact on society by giving back and using their experiences to help others, all of what Rita stood for and for this we thank each of them for sharing their stories and being a nominee for this award.

Congratulations to Etta Caver, who works at Miami University in Oxford, OH. Etta was nominated by a former student and colleague of Etta's at the University. Etta has seen her share of violence in her family including the murder of her mother and over thirteen years of domestic violence toward Etta and her children resulting in finally escaping and turning her life around including becoming a social worker and is currently working on PhD. Etta overcame many obstacles, abuse, trauma and has been able to take her experiences to help implementing change including being an integral part in "Tina's Law" which was enacted in December 2009. Etta will be presented the Rita Corbin Burns Award on January 17, 2015 at the Hilton Hotel at the No More Summit (www.nomoresummit.org)

Again, thank you for all of the nominations and we commend each of them for making the world a better place. Their voices against violence have not gone unnoticed and we will continue to share their stories with all of you and how you can help their causes!

Miami University congratulates

Etta Caver

First recipient of the Rita Corbin Burns Award, presented by the National Women's Coalition Against Violence & Exploitation (NWCAGE).

"I want to do all that I can to advocate for women. This is my passion. This is my life's goal—to educate everyone about domestic violence so that no one will be victimized. Rita Corbin Burns was a great woman who did great work, and I am so proud to be honored with this award in her name."

—Etta Caver

We are grateful for the outstanding contributions of Miami University alumnae Rita Corbin Burns and Etta Caver. Both women transformed hardship into lives dedicated to the prevention of violence and exploitation.

Speaker's Biographies

Amanda Marshall is the United States Attorney for the District of Oregon. Nominated by President Barack Obama in November of 2010, Ms. Marshall was confirmed by the U.S. Senate in September of 2011. As the chief federal law enforcement officer in Oregon, she oversees the prosecution of all federal crimes and civil matters on behalf of the United States.

Amanda serves as the Vice Chair of the Attorney General's Native American Issues Subcommittee and is the Co-Chair of the Federal Working Group on Native American/Alaska Native Children Exposed to Violence. In addition she serves on the Attorney General's Terrorism/National Security Subcommittee, as well as the Working Groups on Child Exploitation and Medical Marijuana. Prior to her appointment as U.S. Attorney, she worked for the Oregon Department of Justice for approximately 10 years as an Assistant Attorney General and Attorney in Charge of the Child Advocacy Section, representing the Department of Human Services/Child Welfare. Also, she worked as a Deputy District Attorney in Coos County for five years, prosecuting a variety of cases – from property crimes to murder – and overseeing the Domestic Violence Prosecution Unit.

Paula Lucas founded the Americans Overseas Domestic Violence Crisis Center, AODVC, in 1999 while homeless and living in a shelter. In 2012 Paula also launched the Sexual Assault Support & Help For Americans Abroad Program, SASHAA. The crisis center is a national award winning, internationally recognized program operating 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Her team serves the 7.6 million Americans living overseas, the 65 million Americans who travel overseas annually and the 1.1 million military personnel and their dependents overseas. Wrap-around services are provided via an international toll free hotline, 866-USWOMEN. Website www.866uswomen.org

Paula trains nationally and internationally on issues facing American victims of domestic violence and sexual assault overseas. She conducts workshops on empowerment and overcoming life's obstacles. She has appeared on the Today Show and was featured in Reader's Digest magazine along with other television, radio and print media in the USA and overseas. She and her team have won numerous awards over the past thirteen years for their groundbreaking work in victim's service including the National Crime Victim Service Award from the US Department of Justice, Office for Victims of Crime.

Darwin Roberts is a Deputy Attorney General with the Washington State Attorney General's Office. He supervises the office's Consumer Protection, Criminal Justice, and Antitrust Divisions, as well as the Public Counsel Unit (which helps regulate investor-owned utilities). Darwin is the office's lead attorney for human trafficking issues and is part of the legal team helping implement Washington's voter-approved recreational marijuana law.

From 2005 to 2013, Darwin served as an Assistant United States Attorney in the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Western District of Washington. He was the head of the Financial Intelligence Review Team, an interagency criminal task force that used financial information to detect and prosecute crimes, particularly money laundering, fraud, and tax evasion. He also prosecuted a wide variety of other federal crimes, including firearms and drug offenses. Darwin also served in the Civil Division of the U.S. Attorney's Office, where he litigated affirmative and defensive cases including employment discrimination, medical malpractice, FOIA, and real property. Prior to public service, he was a civil litigator with Heller Ehrman LLP in Seattle, where his practice focused on class actions and financial institution litigation. He served as a clerk to Judge Robert Henry of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit and is a graduate of the University of Chicago Law School.

Lane Judson

*made his daughter

*...Crystal loved kettle corn,
Diet Coke and Red Vines...*

Lane & Patty Judson's daughter Crystal was fatally shot by the husband she was divorcing - Tacoma Washington's Police Chief David Brame. The shooting came one day after city officials publicly announced that Crystal's claims of abuse and threats would not be investigated because it was a "private matter." It was a very public murder-suicide though, executed in a shopping center parking lot with their 2 young children running to them. Chief Brame died that day but Crystal lingered. All of us here in Tacoma held our breath for that week, praying for a miracle that just could not be. She had taken a contact headshot with a police-issue Glock.

Her family stayed with her in the hospital until she died, and it was during that time Lane was given the time to whisper to his daughter... "Crystal, I'm going to do whatever I can to make sure this doesn't ever, ever, ever happens to anyone again."

The center is named in honor of Crystal Judson Brame. Crystal was murdered in 2003. In the lobby of the Crystal Judson Family Justice Center hangs a plaque to honor her memory. It reads as follows:

Crystal Judson Family Justice Center
Dedicated to the Memory of Crystal Judson
May all who walk through these doors find Strength, courage and hope.

In her 29 years of practice, she has been lead counsel for many highly-publicized court cases. Anne is a regular contributing legal analyst on TV and cable, having appeared many times on networks including CNN, Fox, CBS, NBC, MSNBC, the BBC and others.

She graduated from Stanford University receiving a B.A. with honors, and as an attorney has a perfect 10 AVVO rating. She has been voted one of the best lawyers in Seattle magazine and in Seattle Metropolitan magazine numerous times. Seattle magazine also voted her one of Seattle's Top 25 most influential people. Washington Law & Politics listed Anne as one of the 25 Smartest People in Washington State in 2003.

Anne has distinguished herself not only as a dedicated advocate for her clients, but also as an attorney who has achieved a level of peer recognition. Over the years, she has been honored with numerous distinctions, which few lawyers and even fewer women can claim. As the Deputy Prosecuting Attorney for the Criminal Division of the King County Prosecutor's Office in Seattle from 1983 to 1988, Anne specialized in prosecuting sex crimes, where she successfully tried over 200 cases.

Anne was profiled in Law and Politics under "Headliners and Legends", profiled in the Bar Bulletin and was named a Superlawyer in the Corporate Counsel editions. She was counsel and spokesperson for The Friends of Amanda Knox, has represented the family of Susan Cox Powell, the illusionist David Copperfield, Howard S. Wright Construction, Lease Crutcher Lewis, the Olympic Pipeline Co., Atlas, innumerable police departments, the state patrol, the border patrol and over thirty judges.

Off-duty, Anne is a Northwest resident who lives in Seattle. Dividing her time between her charities, trial work, and legal analysis, she stays extremely busy.

Anne joined the National Women's Coalition Against Violence & Exploitation in 2012 as a co-founding advisor and continues to be a regular on NWCAVE's radio show "Voices for Justice."

"If I Can't have You..." the Susan Cox Powell Story

Susan Cox Powell is the 3rd daughter of Charles and Judy Cox and was 28 years old when she was reported missing on December 7, 2009. She was born in New Mexico and lived in Alaska before her family settled in Washington State when she was a child. She and her husband later moved to Utah. Susan is a devoted mother to her two small boys and her family and friends know that she would never voluntarily be separated from them.

Susan is an outgoing, optimistic person with a servant's heart and boundless energy. She is characterized by her faith in her Heavenly Father, her determination to provide for her children and her belief that families are forever. Her faith is an example for others, including her two boys.

Susan Powell was last seen in her home in West Valley City, Utah on December 6, 2009. Police were called on the morning of December 7th when Susan's childcare provider became concerned that Susan did not drop her children off as scheduled. It was soon discovered that both Susan and her husband Joshua failed to report for work at their respective jobs. When no one could reach Susan or Joshua, police searched the family home, fearing that the family may have succumbed to carbon monoxide poisoning. No one was in the home.

Joshua Powell eventually returned to the residence later that evening with the two children, but Susan remains missing. Joshua claimed that he took the two children camping at about midnight the night before, leaving Susan asleep or preparing for bed. As a result of their investigation, police have characterized her disappearance as suspicious with criminal overtones. The search for Susan continues.

On February 5th, 2012, Charlie Powell age 7 and Braden Powell age 5 died of smoke inhalation when their father Joshua Powell committed suicide by burning down the house he rented. During the first supervised visit following Josh's failure to regain custody of the boys, Joshua locked the visitation supervisor out of the house, then attacked Charlie then Braden with a hatchet and set the house ablaze. Joshua left messages with his attorney and family members stating he was sorry "for all the people he had hurt."

The Susan Cox Powell Foundation has an even stronger desire to reach out and provide assistance to other families as a legacy to our daughter Susan, and our Grandsons Charlie and Braden Powell.

Inspired by her role on Law & Order: Special Victims Unit, Mariska Hargitay founded the Joyful Heart Foundation in 2004 to help survivors heal and reclaim their lives. Over the last ten years, Joyful Heart has evolved into a national organization that is paving the way for innovative approaches to treating trauma, igniting shifts in the way the public views and responds to sexual assault, domestic violence and child abuse, and reforming and advancing policies and legislation on the city, state and federal levels to ensure justice for survivors.

Since our inception, we have raised $17 million and leveraged more than $55 million in in-kind contributions and donated services to:

- serve over 14,000 survivors and healing professionals;
- connect over 2 million visitors on our website and social media to resources and life-saving help;
- garner more than 2 billion impressions about our issues and work in digital and print media;
- effect policy changes in jurisdictions from New York to California;
- launch ENDTHEBACKLOG.org, the premier online hub for public research, information and news on ending the rape kit backlog in the United States;
- produce the groundbreaking NO MORE PSA campaign to end domestic violence and sexual assault that has already generated over 1 billion media impressions online, in print and on TV.

FREE THE GIRLS

Free the Girls® is a non-profit organization providing job opportunities to women rescued from sex trafficking.

DONATE A BRA. GIVE A FORMER SLAVE A JOB.

At Free The Girls® we have a dream that modern-day slavery will be stopped. We have a dream that the average woman can help stop it. We want you to dream with us.

THE PROBLEM

Currently 27 million men, women and children are being held as slaves around the world—more today than in any other time in history. 80% of those slaves are women and girls. There are a number of amazing organizations that are helping to rescue these women out of a life of prostitution, but what happens when they are rescued?

OUR SOLUTION

We provide an opportunity for women who have been rescued from sex trafficking to earn a living selling second-hand clothing while they go back to school. Many of the women we work with were sold into prostitution as children, only 8-10 years old. Because their lives were stolen from them, they missed out on going to school and getting an education. Selling clothes allows them to work as much or as little as their school schedule permits.

WHY BRAS?

Let's face it, ladies: the back of your underwear drawer is most likely a graveyard of bras you don't wear anymore or that never fit right in the first place. By contrast, second-hand clothing is a profitable market in many countries around the world. Bras are sought after items. Some of the girls in our program are making 5x the minimum wage in their community by selling bras! And even better, bras provide an opportunity for these women to work with other women, since they have a history of being abused and used by men.
